“ *Sending my condolences to the Martin Family.
Special prayers to my cousins Mustafa &
Dwane. It is never easy losing a parent.*

*Joe was also a very close friend to myDAD.
Just recently they shared a phone conversation. It was a highlight for my Dad as he had not see Joe at the Houston VA in a while.
Glad they had a chance to catch-up.*

“ Daddy

Even tho we didn't have the father and daughter relationship that every daughter longs to have with her dad I still have memories of times spent with you.

I will treasure those times. I have gained two bonus brothers who I have grown to love & plan to continue a close bond with.

Daddy you will be missed & forever loved.

Rest In Peace And Power

Your Daughter

Daddy,

I truly love you and will miss you. My work ethic and manhood was set by watching you do blue collar work and move toward have our business. I truly enjoy the challenges you set for me and Mustafa to strive for excellence in junior high school. My fondest memory was last year when when spent three days together.....me, you and Mustafa. I am truly bless to have spent this time with you. I love you

“ Dad,

The first man I knew. You instilled the concept of working hard and earning for yourself. I watched you do this day in and day out. You are my living example of what a man is. You touched so many lives as I was growing up. Being the coach, the chauffeur, and the friend to many of our friends. We watched you go from working a job that unappreciated you to owning your own business. My biggest memory of you came from the Army and moved your family into the suburb. This was the beginning of my learning curb to becoming who I am today. For this I say, Thank You, You never spent a lot of money but when you did it was on meaningful things. For this I say Thank You. You allowed us the ability to learn how make life significant; You only have one. For this I say Thank You. Lastly I watched how proud of a man you were all the way to the end. For this vision I say Thank You. Day I will miss our conversations. I will miss the visits when picking you up as you came for your Doctor's visit here in Houston, TX. I will miss coming to visit you in Calhoun, LA. One thing for sure I will not stop missing you until we meet again. This part of the journey is complete. As we come together for your homegoing know that the LEGACY you have left will live on in all of those who you have touched.

*Always Will Love You Dad
